

Council To Hear Revisions Dean Expects Decrease In Spring Enrollment

Elections, Student Court and semester units come in for revisions along with Freshman Class representation in the newly revised ASB constitution which will be proposed to the Student Council at its next meeting.

Drawn up by a committee composed of Don Hubbard, Don Ryan and Stan Croonquist, and headed by Don Atkinson, the proposed constitution provides that elections for Freshman Class officers will be held in the fall and spring when the officers for the other classes are elected instead of having the class hold a special election in December for its first officers as it does now.

"We feel that the wait is too long before the freshmen have a voice in the student government under the present constitution," said Croonquist.

The Senior Class officers also will be elected twice a year, a change at the end of each semester.

Quarter unit requirements for office under the present constitution have been changed to semester units for use in the semester system, but the proposition of units needed to hold an office is the same as under the old system.

"It will take no more or less to hold an office under the proposed constitution than it does now," said Croonquist.

Drama Class Gives Comedy

"Accidentally Yours," an "in-the-round" drama production, will be presented tomorrow and Wednesday nights at 8:15 p.m. in the old Little Theater.

Tickets may be obtained in the Speech and Drama Office, SD-100, from 1 to 5 p.m. daily for 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

The play is put on as a class project of the students in Advanced Acting class under John Kerr, associate professor of drama.

The play's main character is a history professor, Spencer Mosby, who suddenly wins a prize for a novel he doesn't write but instead wishes for on an "alladdin's lamp." The lamp really is an ivy planter given him by his wife as an anniversary present.

Nationalist To Give Talk on Mexico

A naturalist's view of remote parts of Mexico will be presented tonight at 8 o'clock when Fran William Hall presents his Audubon Screen Tour in Morris Dailey auditorium.

His lecture, "South to Siesta Land," will be illustrated with colored motion pictures. Admission is 85 cents general and 55 cents for students.

Another new provision is a proposed election committee with an undecided number of members which would take over all election details from the Student Court, which would be for general supervision.

"Under the present system, the court is often put in the position of having to judge on its own rulings," said Croonquist. "During the last election, one candidate was declared ineligible by the court and he protested, thus bringing the case up again. The court had to make a judgment on its previous declaration, which is not a good practice."

SJS Enrollment Bill Passes Committee; Goes to Assembly

Following approval yesterday by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, the bill increasing the SJS enrollment to 8,510 students will now go to the Assembly for consideration, according to Dr. Fred Harclerod, dean of instruction.

A subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee will begin hearings on the proposed increase next week, he stated.

"We're extremely gratified they have recognized that we need teachers. In the long run, we hope they realize we need permanent buildings, too, instead of barracks and old houses," Harclerod said.

Passage of the bill means that qualified students probably will not be turned away from SJS next year and that there will be less of an overload on the instructors.

Drama Department Will Hold Tryouts

Tryouts for "Hamlet", major drama production of spring quarter, will be held this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Main Theater of the Speech and Drama building.

Anyone in school is eligible to try out for the 25 student and 10 chorus parts in the play, which will be the first one produced in the newly completed Main Theater, June 2 through 11.

Names of persons for call-backs will be posted tomorrow and call-back try-outs will be Wednesday. The final cast will be announced Thursday by Play Director Hugh Gillis, head of the Speech and Drama Department.

Recommended readings for try-outs are listed on the bulletin boards of the Speech and Drama building. These selections represent the main speeches of the different characters, but the students trying out may select passages of their own.

Defeat of the proposition either would increase the already overcrowded condition at San Jose State or result in a ruling similar to this year's closed door policy.

Assembly Okays Budget Increase

SACRAMENTO, March 4 (UP)—An Assembly committee approved late yesterday an augmented budget of $4,231,643 to support San Jose State College in fiscal year 1955-56.

The assembly Ways and Means Committee voted unanimously to add $333,157 to the amount originally budgeted for the school so that 8,510 students may be accommodated.

The state Department of Finance recommended that the budget addition be only $281,022 for an enrollment of 8,250. But T. H. Mugford, assistant director of finance, said the college would have to "go a long way to adjust to that enrollment, even to 8,250."

Dr. Burton Vasche, an official of the State Department of Education, said "this is the first college to feel the effects of the increased enrollment that they all are going to feel." He assured the committee that the standard of education would not be lowered by allowing the increased enrollment.

Vasche said San Jose State now has a capacity of 7,994 students. He said the college planned to gain more utilization of its facilities by holding classes in the late afternoon and evening.

Freshman Class Will Discuss City-wide Paper Drive Today

A city-wide paper drive is the next project to be discussed at today's Freshman Class meeting at 3:30 p.m. in Room 117. Even in the midst of Mixer planning, the Freshman finance committee has been making tentative investigations into the possibilities of the success of such a venture.

Public Responds To Open House

"We were very happy at the turnout at our open house," Thomas E. Leonard of the Aeronautics Department said Friday.

"The students came to see us in the afternoon and seemed very interested. Dr. Wahlquist sent a representative. And we were visited by high school students and cub scouts.

"But the persons that pleased us most were the parents of our students who came from Oakland and other areas to see what their sons were doing here," he said.

Less than half the expected enrollment increase of 500 students will join SJS ranks next quarter, according to present figures.

Approximately 210 additional students have been accepted to date with another 17 to 20 applications now being evaluated, according to Dr. Fred Harclerod, dean of instruction.

Dr. Harclerod added that it is impossible to set a definite figure because special petitions for admission yet to be considered will increase the final figures.

"This figure is lower than we had earlier anticipated," Dr. Harclerod said in commenting on the low additional enrollment for next quarter.

The overall enrollment at San Jose State college will probably decrease next quarter because approximately 500 students are expected to leave through graduation, low grades and other reasons.

Students who have completed the equivalent of 70 semester periods of course work in subjects other than physical education and military science with A or B grades on a five-point scale during the last three years of high school will be admitted on their grade transcripts.

Music Group Will Present Two Concerts

The SJS Symphony Orchestra presents the first of its two concerts tonight in the Music building Concert Hall, featuring a variety of selections and introducing the seldom-heard voice of the harpsichord.

Time of the concert is 8:15 o'clock. Admission is free.

W. Gibson Walters, associate professor of music, will conduct the orchestra through a journey into Beethoven, Bach, Vieuxtemps, von Weber and Berlioz.

Patrick Meierotto's harpsichord and Kathryn Sorensen's flute will play prominent parts in the counterpoint melodies of Bach's "Suite No. 2 in B Minor."

Gilda Mazzanti will perform on violin in Vieuxtemps' "Ballade and Polonaise, op. 38," while Helen Pigiaroff will solo at the piano in "Konzertstück" by von Weber.

Beethoven's lone contribution to the program will be the overture to "Coriolanus." The orchestra has chosen the "Roman Carnival Overture, op. 9" as the featured work of Berlioz.

Co-founder and former conductor of the Idaho State Symphony, Walters also has conducted symphony orchestras at Springfield, Mo., North Texas State and Kansas State.

Miss Pigiaroff, born in Kharkover, Russia, is a senior modern languages major who has studied piano since the age of five in Kharkover and Munich before coming to America in 1951. She has appeared in several local recitals.

Sell Class Schedules

Class schedules for spring quarter are now on sale at the Spartan Shop and Cal book store. The schedules arrived Friday.

For Saboteurs Only . . .

Thought we'd gone through the wrong door when we walked into the Coop the other afternoon . . . it looked like the annex to the city dump.

We have nothing against the city dump . . . or any other city's dump . . . or their annexes, if they have annexes . . . we're just prejudiced against the Coop's imitating them because it's so confusing; we were irritated because we'd forgotten to bring the cracked flower pot and bottomless kettle we've been meaning to throw away . . . until we realized we were in the Coop, of course.

We're not positive about who should get the credit for such a good imitation (it's good by afternoon at least . . . we can't tell in the mornings because who can see the floor for the people?) but we have a hunch that it's the students. Until somebody, like the Coop management contests it, we'll give the credit to Miss and Mr. Sparta.

After all, the Coop people keep trying to sabotage the whole effort by sweeping up at the end of the day.

And it's not only what they do at the end of the day, it's what they keep trying to do all through the day. Why they'll clean EVERYTHING off those table tops if you give 'em a chance.

So here's the way a fifth column could work in that place if somebody wanted to bring down the caliber of the imitation: instead of throwing things (everything) on the floor, they could leave the stuff (napkins, Dailys, etc., etc., etc.) on the tables for those people to pick up. And a real saboteur could monkey-wrench the whole works by putting cigarette butts in ash-trays.

So there's the plan . . . sure hope nobody read it 'cause, boy, would it wreck havoc with a beautifully operating system!

Philosopher Discusses Emotive Values in Talk

Emotive theories of values were the subject of Dr. Clarence I. Lewis, top ranking philosopher, in an address Wednesday in the Engineering hall.

Before a filled auditorium, Dr. Lewis said he feels that value judgements are either true or false, not just expressions of emotion or attempts at persuasion.

Dr. Lewis in his lecture, "The Nature of Values," said that we must distinguish between two types of value judgements, those of integrity and categorical imperatives.

In response to a question from the floor, Dr. Lewis pointed out that aesthetic values are exclusively values of gratification. There is no categorical imperative associated with aesthetic values, he said.

Coffee and doughnuts were served.

Artists Slate Extension Trip

The first "Sun Valley Art Extension Class" will be held for a four-week period from July 1-28, according to Ralph Conaway, art teacher, currently working for his Bachelor of Arts degree at SJS. Conaway is in charge of organizing the trip.

The class, which is hoped to become an annual event, will include visits to Moon National Monument, Snake River Gorge, Shoshone Falls, Yellowstone Park, Crater Lake and Lassen National Park.

Purpose of the "art vacation" is to give students varied opportunities in outdoor sketching. Half of each day will be spent sketching and the remainder will be devoted to riding, hiking and swimming activities. Students will camp-out the entire four weeks.

Anyone interested in art is invited to sign-up for the trip which will cost approximately $210 with $35 for travel expenses. Conaway stated that there will be a limit of 20 students for the trip. Further information may be obtained by writing to "Sun Valley Trip" 447 Harrison St., Twin Falls, Idaho.

Directory on Sale

The long-awaited Blue Key Directory will go on sale Wednesday morning, according to Stan Abbott, honorary society president.

The booklet, delayed nearly two quarters because of a depletion in Blue Key membership from last year, will feature a section for both Faculty and Students.

The booklet will be sold Wednesday at four different sections of the campus.

Hungry Moose

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, March 4 (UP)—Hundreds of hungry moose, tough and mean enough to charge oncoming locomotives, roamed residential streets here today and citizens tried to stay indoors.

The half-starved animals, some weighing more than half a ton, took over residential areas of Anchorage and nearby Palmer yesterday and made plenty of trouble.

They also poked curiously into a bar and gave patrons a disdainful once-over before leaving.

Physics Group May Organize Astronomers

A meeting to organize an astronomy group will be sponsored by the Physics Society Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in S-109, according to Alan Hugo, society publicity chairman.

There is a great interest in astronomy on campus, but no group serves this interest, he said. Since astronomy fits in with physics, the society is undertaking to get a group going, Hugo explained.

The form the group would take will depend on the demands of those interested, he said, but it probably will be a section of the Physics Society.

"Facilities for setting up telescopes on campus are excellent," Hugo commented.

The society also will sponsor a field trip to the Ryan High Voltage Laboratory at Stanford University during the week after registration next quarter, he said.

Buyers Club Offers Grant For Retailers

A $750 scholarship for one year of professional graduate study leading to a degree of Master of Science in Retailing in the New York University School of Retailing is being offered by the American Women Buyers Club, according to Dr. Edward Clements, chairman of the College Service Funds Committee.

The scholarship is open to graduating senior women interested in careers in retailing.

As part of a long-range campaign to attract more of the country's top-ranking women college-graduates into the field of retailing, the award is being offered by the buyers club. The club feels that the opportunities for successful careers in retailing are numerous and that women should be encouraged to take part in them.

State Department Spokesman Tells of Foreign Service Jobs

John Garnett, U. S. State Department representative, Friday informed an audience of approximately 100 students interested in Foreign Service of the availability of 250 foreign service jobs for applicants able to meet the qualifications.

"A foreign language is no longer an absolute requirement," said Garnett. "However, a student who passes a test without having one must be able to pass a written examination in a foreign language within two years."

Garnett listed as other requirements: 20 years of age as of May 2 and under the age of 31, and American citizenship of at least 10 years.

Students wishing to take the examinations to be given June 24, may obtain application blanks through Dr. Laird Swagert. These blanks must be submitted to the Board of Examiners by May 2.

The written examination, previously given in three days, has been reduced to one. Students passing it will be required to undergo an oral examination sometime in the fall, Garnett said.

Inter-Fraternity Council Changes Award Policy

The "Warren Bishop Trophy," presented annually to the outstanding campus fraternity by Inter-Fraternity Council, will be awarded next year on a "purely athletic" basis, according to Sam Statler, IFC president.

Change in policy came as a result of a resolution passed by IFC last week, when councilmen agreed to award the trophy only for prominence gained in inter-fraternity sports.

Councilmen feel the present system is inadequate because the victorious house is not outstanding in a specific event, but gets the trophy in merit of points accumulated from several functions. They believe the policy to be inaugurated next fall will be a better determiner of how much more outstanding one house is than another.

Under the present set-up, the fraternity with the most points at the end of the school year receives the trophy. The revised policy, however, will give points only for athletic prowess.

"The new ruling will make it easier to measure the outstanding house, and should eliminate much of the cutthroat competition employed by fraternities in previous years," Tom McDermott, IFC member, explained.

Delta Upsilon presently holds the trophy, which was donated by Kappa Alpha several years ago as a memorial to the late Warren Bishop, former member.

Hold Interviews

A representative of the Food and Drug Administration will be on campus Wednesday, March 9, to interview students interested in a job as Food and Drug Inspector, according to Dr. Carl Duncan, natural science division chairman.

Experience necessary for the job probably will include either a strong major or minor in a science field, he said.

Appointments for interviews should be made through the Placement Office.

Accountants Plan Spring Activities

Plans for spring quarter activities were formulated at the last meeting of the Executive Council of Alpha Eta Sigma, accountants' honor society, at the home of Jesse D. Reynolds, faculty adviser. Proposed amendments to the constitution were covered.

Last regular meeting for this quarter will be held in the Fireside Room of the Unitarian Church, 160 N. 3rd St., March 8, at 7:30 p.m., according to Pauline Parlier, second vice president.

Three SJS Profs Will Judge Exhibits at S.F. Science Fair

Three SJS science division faculty members will be judges at the San Francisco Bay Area Science Fair in April at the California Academy of Science in Golden Gate Park, according to Dr. Arthur Williams, professor of chemistry.

The three are Dr. Wilbur Sprain, assistant professor of physical science; Dr. W. James Tilden, assistant professor of entomology, and Dr. Williams.

Exhibits in the fair are designed by high school students in the Bay Area, the best from each participating high school going to the San Francisco judging.

Dr. Sprain will participate in the judging of exhibits at Washington Union High School in Centerville next Wednesday, Dr. Williams said.

Buttons Show Style Trends

By JANINE LAFEHR

Button, button, who's got the button? It seems that Miss Helen L. Mignon, professor emerita of home economics, does, if that display on the first floor of the Home Economics building is any evidence.

Miss Mignon has buttons that reveal Man's moods and manners through the past three centuries. The collection is composed of both historic and common buttons, military and state seal-closures, Palestine carved pearls and the more recent commemorative buttons from the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.

Perhaps the most interesting of the collection is the tray of black glass buttons made popular by the late Queen Victoria when she went into mourning for her consort, Prince Albert.

The exhibit will be on display until Thursday.

Job Mart

Seniors interested in career opportunities as inspectors in the Food and Drug Administration of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, should make advance appointments in the Placement Office, Room 100, for interviews with S. J. Gilmore of the San Francisco District Office.

Interviews will be held Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., according to Dr. Vernon A. Ouellette, placement director.

Positions are available in Los Angeles and San Francisco. The beginning salary is $3410, with opportunities for advancement.

Seniors majoring in sanitation, chemistry or bacteriology are eligible to apply.

Tickets will be on sale for $1 in the Outer Quad until 5 p.m.

Mrs. Edgar Tells Big Teacher Need

Since the first of the year, calls have been received for general elementary and general secondary candidates to teach in nearly every section of the state, according to Mrs. Doris K. Edgar, director of teacher placement.

The following interviews for G.E. candidates have been scheduled for this month and interested students should check with the Placement Office, Room 100, for additional information and appointments.

March 10—Bakersfield.

March 17—Santa Maria.

Hubbardmen Cop Honors In Annual Track Classic

By JERRY GANDY

Don Hubbard's high scoring squad garnered 80 1/3 points to cop top honors Friday afternoon in the annual Interclass Track Meet at the Spartan Track. The distance runner's team was sponsored by Kappa Alpha, Kappa Alpha Theta, Sigma Kappa, and Alpha Tau Omega.

Trailing the Hubbardmen were Ed Kreyenhagen's team sponsored by Delta Upsilon, Delta Gamma, and Sigma Chi, 73; Mick Maramonte's squad sponsored by Kappa Tau, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 69 5/6; Val Daniels' team sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha, Alpha Chi Omega, and Lambda Chi Alpha, 61 1/2; and Owen Rhodes' team sponsored by Phi Sigma Kappa, Alpha Phi, and Theta Chi.

The outstanding performance selection committee declared a tie for the honor among Maramonte, Rhodes, Billy Jo Wright, and Lynn Greene. Three of the four set new meet records, creating a difficult decision for the judges.

Coach Bud Winter said the trophy presentation will be decided today when the four meet to flip a coin for the award.

SJS Horsehiders Belt Stanford 5-4

The Spartan baseball team played give-away for three innings Saturday afternoon at Municipal Stadium and then settled down behind the two-hit relief pitching of Reese Dick to beat the Stanford Indians, 5-4, with an eighth inning rally.

Sloppy fielding and the ineffective pitching of Doug Bochner, just over a battle with the flu bug, gave the Indians four quick runs, and brought Dick to the scene with two men on base and only one out in the third inning. Dick, a senior, who was used very sparingly last season, was never in serious trouble until the ninth inning when, pitching a little too carefully, he walked two men. But he then bore down to retire Stanford's Ron Marcial and Rich Scramaglia to end the ball game.

Meanwhile, the Spartans supported Dick with some timely hitting. With two down in the last of the third, Stanford's starting pitcher Ray Young hit Spartan shortstop Bill Rahming with a pitched ball. An error put Rahming on second base, from whence he scored on Stan Beasley's bingle to left.

The Spartans scored two more runs in the fourth, to cut the Indians lead to 4-3. Thirdsacker Dick Brady, whose double tied things up in the eighth, started the round with a single. Tuck Halsey's single to right put men on first and third. Tony Teresa scored Brady with an infield out, advancing Halsey to second.

Shuder Willet's single sent Halsey steaming to the plate.

Neither team scored again until the eighth when the Spartans rallied to win the game. Beasley's scorcher through the middle started things off. Chuck Reynolds sacrificed Beasley to second. Brady then clobbered a double to right, his off field, and it was a new ball game. Halsey, who wound up the game with three hits in four at bat, singled Brady to the plate. That ended the scoring.

Catcher Len Swartz of the Indians had a perfect day at the plate, getting four of the Indians six hits. The Spartans collected eight hits, most of them when they were needed the most.

Winning pitcher: Dick. Loser: Brown.
